: Foreign Affairs "Standard Reply"

On 16 May I received a letter from Mr. Hamilton Fish Armstrong, the editor of Foreign Affairs, enclosing a copy of the letter he is sending (with minor individual variations) as a reply to persons who write him to complain or ask an explanation about his running my article in the April 1966 issue without identifying me as a CIA employee. The text of his "standard reply" is attached herewith for your information. It seems all right to me, but if you have any reservations or objections, please let me know so we can determine how best to take the matter up with Mr. Armstrong.
